The Team Tour offers a high group training level reached with technical and tactical drills along with small or full sided games. The individual qualities are developed through daily technical training sessions and then refined through targeted tactical training sessions.

The main goal is personal development of the player in its basic technical skills and in soccer fundamentals. AC Perugia will motivate each player, putting them in real game situations, endorsing their abilities.

The time spent at the Team Tour is a personal growth opportunity but also of socialization and a technical and tactical enrichment for the young player.
